

CUSTOM HOME THEATER DESIGN, SALES & INSTALLATION

Things are different now

Time was, you went to the stereo store. Maybe the salesperson there suggested a receiver or some speakers. You went home, connected a few wires and suddenly, your life got a lot better.

These days' things are different. The stereo store is likely a big box store with no sale staff. And the things they sell are much more complicated. What goes with what? How do you get this to do what I want it to do? Even if someone is there to ask, are you getting the right answer?

Enter Cutting Edge.

For almost a decade we've been the Lehigh Valley's award-winning answer for mobile electronics. And because you want entertainment in your home, as well as your car, we're offering the same service, expertise and products for your home.

And in a fashion we've become known for, we're not only selling them to you. We'll also design and install a custom home theater for you. We can add whole house audio or video. We can integrate an entire system to work with on touch-screen remote control. Multiple high definition displays, media servers, we can do it.

And the best part is, we do all the work.

Whether you're building a new home, remodeling an existing home bring your ideas to us and we can make them into reality. We make sure all the equipment matches and is installed perfectly. When we're done, we'll show you how everything works. We custom program remote control systems that you can carry or that can be unobtrusively mounted on the wall in every room.
